DETAILED ACTION

This is in reference to communication received 14 August 2007. Claims 1 – 25 are pending for examination.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1 – 12, 14 – 19 and 21 – 22, drawn to operating of a communications network customer terminal automatically varies a tariff for network usage by the customer terminal depending on network loading as detected at the customer terminal. A tariff algorithm is distributed to plurality of terminals, and, at each terminal, using the tariff, a charge for network usage is calculated by the terminal. A network operator detects discrepancy by intermittently samples traffic between the customer terminal and the network, compares a charge calculated by the customer terminal and an expected charge.

Group II, claim(s) 13 and 20, drawn to operating a communications network by applying to customer terminals a tariff for network usage by each of the customer terminals; locally varying the tariff at one or more of the customer terminals with time; calculating a charge for network usage by the one or more of the customer terminals using its locally varying tariff; selecting a period of time for which the tariff is to be fixed; and paying a premium depending on the duration of the period.

Group III, claim(s) 23 – 25, drawn to operating of a communications network having a global amount of network loading, by observation of current status of network congestion by the customer terminal; automatically adjusting a tariff for usage of the communications network based on the detected local observation; calculating a charge for the network usage by the customer terminal using the tariff wherein customer terminal counts the number of data packets sent or received across a network interface with the customer terminal.

The inventions listed as Groups I - III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

Group I has a separate utility such as distributing of a tariff algorithm is to plurality of terminals, and, at each terminal, using the tariff, a charge for network usage is calculated by the terminal. Also, there is detection discrepancy by intermittently samples traffic between the customer terminal and the network, comparing a charge calculated by the customer terminal and an expected charge.

Group II has separate utility such as applying to customer terminals a tariff for network usage by each of the customer terminals; locally varying the tariff at one or more of the customer terminals with time;

Group III, has separate utility such as customer terminal counting the number of data packets sent or received across a network interface with the customer terminal.

Detection of network congestion for Group III requires different utility which is different than the utility required for detecting network congestion for Groups I & II.

Telephone interview was not conducted due to complexity of the restriction requirement and since the examiner knows from past experience that an election will not be made by telephone.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Naresh Vig whose telephone number is (571) 272-6810. The examiner can normally be reached on Mon-Thu 7:00 - 5:30.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, John Weiss can be reached on (571) 272-6812. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
